ALIOTH 400

Product Story

Alioth got its name from the brightest star in the constellation of Ursa Major. The word Alioth origins from the Arabic word Alyat, which means fat tail of the sheep. Alioth has a very weak magnetic field for its type of star and the magnetic poles separates different elements in the stars hydrogen fuel. This phenomena causes Alioth to have very strange spectral lines. The spectral lines are directly transmitted to the surface of the mousepad.
